

Levitation

Hawkwind

In the darkness I will shine, cast not shadows, nor define
I walk on water, float on air, there's no other to compare
I have this fascination, no cause for a deviation
It's called levitation
There's no cause to start and scream, nor rub your eyes, this is no dream
Although I sit upon this chair, I rise and float up in the air
I have this fascination, no cause for a deviation
It's called levitation
Magnetic force, repel-attract, once it starts, there's no turning back
I offer you this chance to learn, take it now there's no return
