

Dissolve and Decay

Hawthorne Heights

She wore crushed velvet, jet black and to the floor.
She rode on angels' wings that used to shine oh so bright.
Now the dark has caught the spark
in her eyes and I, I can't find the air.

I'll wait for you, I cross my heart.
Dissolve and decay, there's nothing left for me. (Right now)

Walk slowly towards the light.
She's calling and I'm falling down.
She's crying and I am lying about last night.
She can't find a way to tell me and I can't find the air.

I'll wait for you, I cross my heart.
This fire's dying down, there's nothing left to see. (Right now

Right now!

Dissolve and decay there's nothing left for me
Sit back and let her die slowly don't cry, she didn't love you anyway.
Dissolve and decay there's nothing left for me.
Just try to make it out alive, yeah, alive means your blood is flowing.

(Right now) This fire's dying down, there's nothing left to see
