

Hollywood & Vine

Hawthorne Heights

The clouds settle on the city
To canopy for movie scenes
A backdrop full of hope and dreams
The harder they try, the further they fall
Their learning their lines, and waiting for calls
To be the next face
That takes the place of the one you used to love

Here we go, here we go again this time
Did you leave your heart tonight
On Hollywood and Vine
In the corner of your mind
She's waiting for a ride, to the other side
Of Hollywood and Vine

You're no longer anonymous
The shine of fame has turned to rust
And you're the one whose wasted
Every single chance you never took
The longer they wait, the further they are
They got what it takes, no matter the part
To be the next face
That takes the place of the one you used to love

Here we go, here we go again this time
Did you leave your heart tonight
On Hollywood and Vine
In the corner of your mind
She's waiting for a ride, to the other side
Of Hollywood and Vine

In the corner of your mind, she's waiting for a ride
In the corner of your mind, she's waiting for a ride

Here we go, here we go again this time
Did you leave your heart tonight
On Hollywood and Vine
In the corner of your mind
She's waiting for a ride, to the other side
Of Hollywood and Vine