

Carried Away

Hayden

Don't be scared to leave him
You've been sad all season
You should think of something to say
Maybe you could tell him

That from the day you met him
You've been liking him less and less
And things have got to change
Cause if they stay the same

You'll both get carried away
He might really love you
And be crushed by the news
Then you can take back everything you said

And if he feels the same way
Has been waiting to say
The same things, but on a different day
You'll go your separate ways

And all your days with him will fade
Or be carried away
La la la