

This Summer

Hayden

Remember when we were young
And the summers felt like they would never end
This one was like that again
But only because so much was said
Two I loved went away
Not to come back any day
In my life since the day it started
Now I'm one of the broken hearted
Since time has passed and thoughts have been thought
I look at it from a different shot
It was going to happen, it had to end
The way it went down was the best for them
And all I hope is the day I die
I'm ready to face all that I've tried
And I follow you right behind
So no one is left killing time
