

I'm So Sorry

Hazel O'Connor

I think I'd have to have lived a long long time ago
When the moon was around and we moved to the sound
Of our own romantic song
And I gave you all the gifts that my body had to bear
But this world chewed them up spat them all out
And you acted like you didn't care

Well enough is enough when the going get tough
Did we put our love on ice did it get cold
Well this world is so rough it could steal all of our love
But it could never steal our soul

Hold on love
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
It's comin' down like rain
And I'm so sorry

If you should leave me now
I'll sing for you a song
And it won't be a sorry song
It won't be a where did we go wrong
No, I'll sing a song of joy
That remains forever in my soul

Because saw us tonight she carves out
The amount of joy we can hold
If you leave me now
Love, then I must stay, well, I pray we meet again
Another time, another way
This far we filled
Well it must not go cold
And they will never steal our soul

Hold on love
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
It's comin' down like rain
And

Hold on love
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
It's comin' down like rain
And I'm so sorry

Hold on love
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
I can see you now
I can feel your pain
It's comin' down like rain
I'm so sorry
