

Still Breathing

Hazel O'Connor

Well did you ever get the feeling you've been here before

Well I do!

You see a face, you know a place

Maybe it's déjà-vu

You better believe in the freedom

You know the next line

You better believe in the feeling

Time after time I am dreaming

Am I dreaming?

I dive down into life's ocean

I'm riding on the crest of a wave

A big momma come a crashin' down on me

I spin around, hit the ground, rise again,

I spit the sound and say

Hey-ho - I'm still breathing

Hey-ho - I've survived

Hey-ho - I'm still breathing

Hey-ho - I'm alive

Well did you ever get to wonder about the road that you chose?

Well I do!

You lose your way, you find your say,

you have your day

Encore déjà-vu

You better believe in the reason you do what you do

You better believe in the meaning

The journey's for you

It's for you

Are you dreaming?

You dive down into life's ocean

You're riding on the crest of a wave

A big momma come a crashin' down on you

You spin around, hit the ground, rise again, you spit the sound and say

Hey-ho - I'm still breathing

Hey-ho - I've survived

Hey-ho - I'm still breathing

Hey-ho - I'm alive

Hey-ho - I'm still breathing

Hey-ho - I've survived

Hey-ho - I'm still breathing

Hey-ho - I'm alive

I'm alive

I'm alive

I'm alive
