

She is sitting in her room... With her creeping thoughts and gloom oh, she rides the dreams
Her brain is clouded place.... And no hope is in her face she is so different
She tries to break it down... Her mind isn't strong enough she needs to be away from here

The night is falling down..... Her mind is completely drunk oh, time and space
She tries to break it down Her mind isn't strong enough she needs to be away from here

Ref:

Fly, million miles
You need to fly and break it down
Fly, million miles, million names
You need to fly and break it down Stay!
She is sitting in her room... With her creeping thoughts and gloom oh, she rides the dreams
Her brain is clouded place And no hope is in her face she is so different
She knows it's all for free..... It is and forever be she needs to be away from here
