The Primarily Blue's

He Is Legend

So, Now if I could just stand out Underneath your weather Nevermind the hole that's in my shoe And just keep raining You make it all feel better Soaked to the bone in you Here's to your bones

Don't know why so dry in my hands (In my head) That is so you Don't know why so primary red I'm primarily blue

It's so dark here And heavier than ever Just sit still and stand cool Damn the eye The ever drifting feather Damn the mind The useless tool

Don't know why so dry in my hands (In my head) That is so you Don't know why so primary red I'm primarily blue

Please tell me why
(Where are you?)
You've been hiding

Everyone is standing by (Where are you?) Awaiting your reply

I don't know exactly why I'm hiding I don't know exactly why I'm hiding
