

Too Late

Head East

You told me you loved me
Then turned and walked away
Said that you needed me
But you never meant to stay-ay

Now that you want to come back
You think that I'll make you pay
But you better wake up to the fact
That we're through, you've gone another way

Too late, you don't learn how to give
Can't wait, I've got my own life to live
Too late, there's no more for me to say
Girl, you better go your own way

You tried to fake it
Puttin' on quite a show
Thought I could take it
And that I would never know

Show that my love was so strong
Certain that I'd be there
Finally you saw you were wrong
But I'm gone, you learned too late to care

Chorus

Chorus

Too late
Too late
Too late
You don't learn how to give
Can't wait, I've got my own life to live
Too late, there's no more for me to say
Can't wait
You better go your own way
Too late
You don't learn how to give
Can't wait, I've got...
