

Everybody Needs A Fence To Lean On

Headlights

I am looking, lookin' for something can't quite put my mind at ease 'cause i need to see, see an opening take my arms in and bring bring it together, make it warmer all for me...

Lookin' for the sun in England Throw him a lifeline cause he's sinkin' cuz everybodys got their enemies and everybody needs a fence to lean on remember how the hospitals were vacant

Cuz everybody's got their enemies
everybody's got their enemies
everybody's got their enemies
everybody's got their enemies

I am watching, guarding the moments they are leaving like all of you you're looking at nothin' and walking through darkness Today could be the same for me too

Cuz everybody's got their enemies
everybody's got their enemies
everybody's got their enemies
everybody's got their enemies

I am watching, guarding the moments
you're looking at nothing walking through darkness
Today could be the same for me too
