Signs Point To Yes (But Outlook Not So Good)

Headlights

All this time you felt all overgrown stuck inside with those little minds all alone and no one came winter refrain made you sing along to windowpanes and faster trains and lonely songs but im not the one who was wild and im not the one who left town on that night

doctor said it was a poorly head and kept you laying down but its no so hard, getting out of bed not like all those times you never said she felt weighed down she felt weighed down but im not the one who was wild and im not the one who left town on that night on that night
