

Maybe

Heart in Hand

I fear the worse it's been ten days and still no word.
I fear the worse, have you lost your voice?
Or just your heart?
I'm sure this will not last,
In fact I'm positive that there is something wrong
(there is something wrong)
Is this the beginning of the end?
(please tell me)

Last time we spoke,
Everything seemed fine.
Why are you leading me on?
Why can't you just,
Open up and let me in,
Because I'm tired of sitting here,
and wondering why,
feels like I've been sitting on this fence forever.

Why can't you,
Keep your promises?

So sing me something other than all your sad songs,
and I'll sing what I believe.
Something I believe

And I drew the line
when you were sitting on fences,
We've crossed wires
A thousand times.
And I drew the line
when you were sitting on fences love,
All we loved has died in vain.

I feel so lost,
I'll pack my shit and leave,
I have to go,
But I'll be back next month,
The month of December,

Nowhere near as cold as you,
Please make up your mind,
Last time we spoke,
Everything seemed fine.
Absence makes the heart wander.

Why can't you
Keep your promises?

So sing me something other than
All your sad songs
And I'll sing what I believe.

Next time,
I'll keep my feelings to myself

All we love is gone,
It's died in vain.
All we love is gone.

Something I believe.

And I drew the line
When you were sitting on fences,
We've crossed wires a thousand times.
And I drew the line
When you were sitting on fences love,
Now all we loved has died in vain.

All we loved has died in vain.
Died in vain.
