

Enough

Heart

The color blue, I always felt it like a sigh
This is new, this blue fire inside his eyes
With feet of snow, I try in vain
He makes the northern lights come dance for me again

He's good enough, he's sweet enough
He's man enough a little touch
I need so much, I want so much
I need to feel that secret touch
Why can't I break out?
Why won't he reach out for me?

Oh loneliness, it comes and it goes
Lately loneliness loneliness, it just grows and grows and grows
'Cause here he is living deep inside
And nowhere nowhere nowhere to hide

He's good enough, he's sweet enough
He's man enough a little touch
I want so much, I need so much
I need to feel that secret touch
Why can't I just break out?
Why won't he reach out?
