

Choose

Heather Dale

Another June, another wedding
We are gathered here today
To watch a girl who chose to be a bride
Give promises away

I do, I do
The sun is shining
I reach out to hold your hand
We understand the kind of choices lie ahead

[Chorus]
Every morning
Choose to love something about him
Every day
Remember who I choose to be
Every evening
Choose to say the things that haven't yet been said
Then go to bed
And choose to love the man I'm with

Another autumn follows summer
And the skies are dark with rain
I'm so secure in the assumption
He's the one who has to change

I do, I do
Wish I could take back
All the things that I regret
The accumulated damage that I do
When I forget to...

[Chorus]
Sometimes we fall apart
Before we pull it back together
Do we choose to let it go
Or do we struggle through the weather
When we've lived in different worlds
We have to wonder if it's better
To appreciate the changes
Or forget about forever

Another year, another challenge
There's the distance
There's the wait
There's a thousand aggravations that keep getting in the way

I do, I do I told you once
I know I'd do it all again
Because I meant it when we married
And I've meant it ever since

[Chorus]

The man I'm with
