Heatmiser

Taking in the party He put me down for awhile 100 watts of ambition Springing off his smile His lips hooked set to kiss me But he closed up like a fist He's got a fortune in charm And makes a gift out of empty arms But I was sold, I was sold, no one had to convince me Bendng over backwards I watched the light burn out His excuses fell like diamonds Brilliant, cutting, lost and found He's got a fortune in charm And makes a gift outof empty arms But I was sold, I was sold, no one had to convince me (I don't believe it) (believe it)