

Saturday

Hedley

Believe me it's easy to scream
When you're dreaming
And you wonder what's under your bed
When you're sleeping

They beat you and blame you
For all that you went through
But hey, it's just another Saturday
It's only just another Saturday

I love you, I need you
Like a thousand times before
Wonder why I hate you?
But I'll scream and ask for more

I only wanted your attention
At least the hate is some connection
But hey, it's just another Saturday

Believe me it's easy
To live between the lines
When mommy said sorry
Over a thousand times

You're tied up, you're cried out
You gotta get outta here
But hey, it's just another Saturday
It's only just another Saturday

I love you, I need you
Like a thousand times before
Wonder why I hate you?
But I scream and ask for more

I only wanted your attention
At least the hate is some connection
And if I feel then I need
If I love then I'm free, then I'm free

You made a mess of me
You made a mess of me

I love you, I need you
Like a thousand times before
Wonder why I hate you?
But I scream and ask for more

I only wanted your attention
At least the hate is some connection
But hey, it's just another Saturday, another Saturday
It's only just another Saturday

Another Saturday and I'm free
And I'm free and I'm free and I'm free
