

Division of the Heart

Heffron Drive

I can't sleep without the lights on,
It's like I'm broken when you're gone.
I've been holding on for so long.
Every second here without you
Feels like the division of the heart.
I've been holding on for so long.

Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.
Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.

I keep trying to recreate you,
But all my visions turn to dust.
Cause there ain't nothing like the real thing.
Every minute getting closer.
Feels like a minute lost in time.
I swear I can hear you calling.

Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.
Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.

Oooh, oooh, coming home to me.
Every second here without you
Feels like division of the heart,
I've been holding on for so long.

Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.
Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.
Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.
Tonight you're coming home, coming home, coming home to me.
Coming home to me.
