

Queen For Tonight

Helen Shapiro

Just being here with you tonight
I'm a queen on a throne
And every time I hold you tight
A palace is my home
But will my kingdom turn to dust in the morning light?
I am a queen for tonight (Queen for tonight)
But will I have a king tomorrow? (Tomorrow)

Every kiss you're giving me
Is a jewel in my crown
I'm high and mighty as can be
With the treasure I've found
But will my castle tumble down in the morning light?
I am a queen for tonight (Queen for tonight)
But will I have a king tomorrow? (Tomorrow)

You say that you belong to me
And I rule the world
A queen in all her majesty
Knowing I'm your girl
But will I wear a golden crown in the morning light?
I am a queen for tonight (Queen for tonight)
But will I have a king tomorrow? (Tomorrow)

I am a queen for tonight
But will I have a king tomorrow?
