

At the End of the Journey

Helker

At the end of the journey
In a mirror I found
Everything I did wrong
And the void in my soul

Trying to throw away my past
And fight to start over again

I scream to heaven
And spread my wings
To rise and never
Fall again

With my soul in my hands
Tearing apart the old mask
I will wait for another chance
Leaving my past way behind

Into pieces I explode
But in the end I'll find my way

I scream to heaven
And spread my wings
To rise and never
Fall again
