

You've Got Hopes

Hell Is For Heroes

I have died here once before
And I will die here once again
And they will put me in the ground
To be eaten by the things I now feed on
Alongside the queen
And all of your prayers
Will fall on our ears
And all of your tears will moisten this mud
That keeps us in place.