

A World To Murder

Hell Within

When will the hand of god choke the life from this world of fools eradicate the masses crushed under the weight of failure

await the deathblow
ripped from your praying hands
a faith transparent
liberate us
decimate us

our fear blinds
us to the ones who enslave us

our world dies
corruption stands us idle

all our lives
devoid of meaning
endless searching
silent screaming
for our rotting souls
there is no hope

lower my broken body down an unmarked grave
unwanted mourning
i'll keep my death all for myself save all your tears for drowning

a faith transparent
decimate us

silent screaming

you
force us down
bind our wrists
crush our dreams
your hopeless god is dying

let the fires rise
wash our hands with burning temples spill your lungs to empty skies with baited breath weep prayers unanswered fear the collective silence sever us from times division i tread a million miles nothing stole the hate from my eyes conceived just to die

the blinding faith in your eyes your fear
your lies
you feel that you'll die a stitch in time
no one to save you.
