

Valentine's Day

Hello Saferide

I won't tell you, baby, you drink too much this year on Valentine's day
And I won't see you looking at that girl's butt this year on Valentine's day
I won't remind you that I'm not for granted
And I won't have to beg you to take a shower
And I won't even cry 'cause you don't love me enough this year on Valentine's day

Got my bags packed and I'm bringing the dog
I'm going to fast on the highway
Lost my love for me when I loved you
I'm gonna reclaim it all on Valentine's day

True love at last on Valentine's day

Gonna have dinner with the coolest girl, although she's been broken down this stay
Just me, myself and my biggest laughter, candle light dinner on Valentine's day
And then I'll go dancing in the finest club and find a kid who's ready to play
Gonna get all the pleasure you never could give me this year on Valentine's day

True love at last on Valentine's day

So I hope you are sorry and I wish you the worst, and that's all I had to say
I think there are fish sticks if you need dinner this year on Valentine's day

Got a feeling this is gonna be Valentine's year

Roses are red and violets are blue and sugar is sweet and I'm leaving you
Roses are red and violets are blue and sugar is sweet and I'm leaving you
Roses are red and violets are blue and sugar is sweet
