The Chance

Helloween

We're living in a constant fight Too much pressure everywhere And all around

Don't let it pull you down Hold on tight Cling to your dreams

Don't you depend on someone else Think for yourself and win the race

The chance you got comes never twice Do your best, and do it right Time will come but don't you hide You are on your way

You're led by God but you're not a pawn Should live your life, don't care 'bout any scorn

Just let them fool around No need to cry Don't give up

Try to be as smart as you can be I know you own so much ability

The chance you got comes never twice Do your best, and do it right Time will come but don't you hide You are on your way

The chance you got comes never twice Do your best, and do it right Time will come but don't you hide You are on your way

The chance you got comes never twice Do your best, and do it right Time will come but don't you hide You are on your way