

No Dawn In Sight

Hellshock

And the dark sky
It wicked on our eyes
Do you wonder if you'll ever see
The morning sun?

The chill spreads in my bones
I can't name what I feel
If this is the winter of your discontent
Then I'm afraid to face the day

Do you know as I do
Why you can't sleep at night
Will you realize
There's no dawn in sight

I now wonder if any know how many words we've made for death a morbid fixation in our lives you only treasure what you have when it dies

Do you know as I do
Why you can't sleep at night
Will you realize
There's no dawn in sight

Feel your youth begin to fade
As the earth rots the same
Do what you will say what you must
But don't you dare pass on the blame
