

Welcome To The Void

Hellshock

All your rights seem like wrongs
Your world so black and white
Is all life really sacred?
You seem repulsed by the sight
Humanity torn apart
Where do homeless sleep tonight
Your plan for recovery leaps
To death on unfriendly streets

We've all played our part damned us all from the start
Running forward in the dark
To welcome the void

Sanity has a price tag
Medicine costs more than life
Still scales weigh prescriptions
Where will the money come from?
The state won't cut the checks
Only our throats
There is no safety net
For when we need it the most

We've all played our part
damned us all from the start
Running forward in the dark
To welcome the void

You would keep us in pain
As if we want your drugs
Still you smash primates heads
Plunge fingers inside
So science to explain
Mammals are coldblooded here
A quiet death you feel
To welcome the void

We've all played our part
damned us all from the start
Running forward in the dark
To welcome the void
