My Father's Waltz

Forty years since you washed ashore Carried out of the sea On the mast of a man-o-war That once brought you to me

Throw your overcoat over a chair And lay all your lazybones down May this night keep you here 'Til tomorrow