

With What I See

Hemina

Fight or flight!
Emotions I don't know about escaped my world, the one that fate paved out for me Guilt for leaving Mother, but her ways I can't defend She vested herself in him, for her life I would descend Where's he now?

With what I see, the safety of my family
It was but Mother and me,
starved of a paternity
And all I ever wanted
was a woman by my side
I think I've finally found her
With what I see she looks fine to me

Patiently, I visit home of yesteryears The fragile devout lady and her two-bit mountain sanctuary To sate my growing hunger, to assure her I'm still there With what I see, she doesn't even care

With what I see, the safety of my family
It was but Mother and me,
starved of a paternity
And all I ever wanted
was a woman by my side
I think I've finally found her
With what I see she looks fine to me
