

Stargazer/Icebreaker

Her Bright Skies

The sky is falling down on me and i remember everything these bruises on my hands (they) won't ever fade away

The world i saw in your eyes is so much more than this could ever be
(and) it's starting to make sense now all the things you put me through i wouldn't change a thing

You were sent to save us all seconds before the fall now hold on tight and don't look back i know you'll never let me go we all sing the same old songs like it's all we know we're spinning around again but you won't ever let me go

Never let me go

sent to save us all
when we're out of control
