

Just Another Day

Her Space Holiday

In that tiny bakery
She fills her head with memories
Of the sweetest taste she's ever owned
A simple kiss wrapped in a bow
Slipped in a bag and taken home
A short address she doesn't know
But she walks around with hopeful feet
Moving towards the day that they will meet

It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
In Candyland
It's more than I can say

Every morning starts the same
She wakes at dawn and begins to bake
She fills the bowls up lovingly
And stirs the mix while whistling
The simple tune of now's the time
You'll come knocking and you'll find
Me standing there with open arms
Whispering I knew it all along

It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
In Candyland
It's more than I can stand

The problem is when you're waiting around for something
You have no idea if the thing that you're waiting for is waiting for you
So all you can do is sit tight

She thinks it's not too much to ask
To be back with her better half
All of it is worth the wait
Even if she doesn't know his name
It's all part of the game

It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
It's just another day
In Candyland
It's more than I can stand
