

All Your Good Friends

Herbert Grönemeyer

Who will lend you ready cash? all your old friends
who will want it back like that?
who will keep your secrets safe put all of their problems on your plate?

Who can see the real you?
who sticks their oar in everything you do?

Who helps you fill the pool coupons in but then won't pay you when you win? all good friends do your good old friends do

They're always there to count on they'd do anything for you oh, if only there were time you'd surely miss them they talk without a pause for breath with all the latest gossip until your ears go deaf

Who has always believed in you?
they never said, they just thought you knew...

They've known you since you were knee-high as they tell every passer-by... all your friends here, your good old friends here

When you're past the worst of it you only want to life it up a bit - they come to you then with deals to sign because you all have a real good time oh, they're always at the door oh, they're always going to let you know the score oh, you and your girlfriend just can't be alone they're at the entry-phone !
