From the Deepest Darkness

Here Comes the Kraken

From the deepest darkness It's staring at us The silence in the shadows is broken Theres no hope Nobody knows when it's coming Cause thousands of years have pasted I wonder when it ends I wonder when it ends Let's just say goodbye To everything you love Cause hate is just the path we'll walk on Everybody is guilty cause we fed it with Ages of hypocrisy And sins Its face is breaking through the fogh And you can see pure evil Into its eyes I still don't recognize Whats coming to my way I fear the end but I don't want the pain Claws sting my back Feel shivers down my spine I don't want To look back My fear becomes real I don't want To look back My fear becomes real Becomes real It's raining Peaces of my loved ones Why am I alive? It's raining Peaces of my loved ones Why am I alive? Does my taste is bad? Why am I alive? Does my taste is bad? It brings dead to everything Around it nobody can scape Nobody can run Nobody is safe Everybody dies

Everybody dies Everybody dies Everybody dies Dies It's breathing down my neck I guess this is the end I only colse my eyes And let the attack strike Goodbye If someone find this It means Im dead This is the fucking end It's breathing down my neck I guess this is the end I only colse my eyes And let the attack strike Goodbye If someone find this It means Im dead This is the fucking end
