Bad Company Ruins Good Manners

Here I Come Falling

We'll look in all directions Not a soul for miles around This scene is getting old Gasp for air, I'll let you up If you will follow Me

This scenery is getting old We'll leave this place tonight This place is full of demons There's no one left to save So turn and face your King

Sound the alarm! This fight will more than break our bones You're such a disaster I'll never sleep again

Catch your breath Put your armor on Now it's time to face your King

Please don't burn these bridges Oceans swell beneath us This place is full of demons Burn it to the ground