

Calabasas

Hey Marseilles

Driving back from Calabasas
Grass roots are all I know
Wait for moonlight to dance with the hills
Leave your hotel for the ocean sill

Come and purchase all the riches
You can find and hold our homes
I will love you no matter the time
We will swing from carousel lights

Take what you need from the words I leave
From the windowsill and blue concrete
If the roads weren't long in the southern states
We would stretch our legs in Oregon gray

Radio and highway lines
Are all I have to keep the pace
Don't you worry we will find a way
To stretch tomorrow into today

Take what you need from the words I leave
From the windowsill and blue concrete
If the roads weren't long in the southern states
We would stretch our legs in Oregon gray

Take what you need from the words I leave
From the windowsill and blue concrete
If the roads weren't long in the southern states
We would stretch our legs in Oregon gray

Take what you need from the words I leave
From the windowsill and blue concrete
If the roads weren't long in the southern states
We would stretch our legs in Oregon gray

When the neon lights will frame our fog
We will leave it all, we will leave it all
If the sun won't set in the road ahead
I will leave this car and drive instead
