Homecoming

Hey Monday

Homecoming, I'm coming My sweet mistake Summer's over, hope it's not too late I'm pacing, impatient Up in my head Taken back to the sidewalk where we met

And carved out our names Do you remember that?

I'm coming home, I'm coming home Did you take off while I was gone? I missed it all, I messed you up, I missed you I'm coming home, I wanna know When all the leaves begin to fall If I'm falling, falling apart for you

Descending, I'm spinning Lost all defense How could you swallow me again? I left you, I meant to Couldn't let you in Never mind a single word I said

Carve out your name Do you remember that?

I'm coming home, I'm coming home
Did you take off while I was gone?
I missed it all, I messed you up, I missed you.
I'm coming home, I wanna know
When all the leaves begin to fall
If I'm falling, falling apart

You've got control of me Is this the end of me? 'Cause I just can't cut up the strings I'm coming back for more Don't let your heart go Please don't walk away

Homecoming, I'm coming, I'm coming back

I'm coming home, I'm coming home
Did you take off while I was gone?
I missed it all, I messed you up, I missed you
I'm coming home, I wanna know
When all the leaves begin to fall
If I'm falling, falling apart

I'm coming home, I'm coming home
Did you take off while I was gone?
I missed it all, I messed you up, I missed you.
I'm coming home, I wanna know
When all the leaves begin to fall
If I'm falling, falling apart for you.
