

Better This Way

Hey Violet

I'll admit I miss your face
But it's better this way, better this way
Everything's sacred, nothing's wasted
Better this way, better this way!

Stick together, fall apart
And love and pain it's all an art
Smash the mould and start again
Without the crime and thicker skin

(I wanna go, go. And then I don't, don't. But now I know. No, now I know)

I'll admit I miss your face
But it's better this way, better this way
Everything's sacred, nothing's wasted
Better this way, better this way!

Don't follow me, you're on your own
No company, you're all alone
Burning all the misery
Waking up to kill the dream

(I wanna go, go. And then I don't, don't. But now I know. No, now I know)

I'll admit I miss your face
But it's better this way, better this way
Everything's sacred, nothing's wasted
Better this way, better this way!

I'll take the blame for the pain in your eyes
This is your last look, your final goodbye

I'll take the blame for the pain in your eyes
This is your last look, your final goodbye

I'll take the blame for the pain in your eyes
This is your last look, your final goodbye

I'll admit I miss your face
But it's better this way, better this way!
I'll admit I miss your face
But it's better this way, better this way!
Everything's sacred, nothing's wasted
Better this way, better this way!

It's better, it's better
