

Heart Is A Hole

Hey Violet

What do you do when
The truth was a lie all along?
Where do you turn to to
When you find the rights were always wrong?

All this dying I went through to live for you

And now my heart is just a hole
An empty space
That used to belong to you
But now
Now that you're gone
My soul's turned cold
Nothing to fill this heart that's a hole

What do you do when
You think you know someone inside out?
And where do you go to
When all of your faith turns into doubt?

No time machine can turn the hands of the clock
Back again

My heart is just a hole
An empty space
That used to belong to you
But now
Now that you're gone
My soul's turned cold
Nothing to fill this heart that's a hole

I still think of you when I close my eyes
Every time I do, oh, part of me dies
I still think of you when I close my eyes!

My heart is just a hole
An empty space
That used to belong to you
But now
Now that you're gone
My soul's turned cold
Nothing to fill this heart that's a hole

My soul's turned cold
Nothing to fill this heart that's a hole

What do you do when
The truth was a lie all along?
