The Shelter's on Fire

They don't give a shit If we're alive or dead Cover our bodies they won't One last breath One last prayer to Death In vain souls scream aloud for no one

Because we are not prepared for it The beast is hungry And it's waiting for our souls, my friends

That's the end of the line - Today No escape we can find - No way That's the end of our lives No escape we can find Drawing near Damn - the shelter's on fire

They've never felt this way Don't you tell me that Over and over again Our last breath Our last prayer to Death In vain we'll scream aloud for no one

Oh, no We are all so unprepared to face it Since we were born we experience what fear's all about We are dying - Why is it so tough to keep my eyes open?

We all should learn life can be short and unfair We only have one shot All of us we'll find it, there's no way back

We're so unprepared to face it Since we're born we experience that We're so unprepared to face it My last prayer to Death There's no way back
