

Does Any Of You Guys Know Why For God's Sake Every Band On Earth Go

His Statue Falls

Why are we believing
That we're all heroes

When we are dependent in everything we do

Broken dreams, drying tears, fading memories
Lost in thoughts about this game called life, game called life

We realize when we fail
And keep it to ourselves
There's no repetition

Even if I would have the chance to change it I would not
'Cause without all this I am simply nothing
Please don't try to find an answer just look forward and move on,
move on

Wake up, break out, this is the only way we found
Wake up, break out, this is the only way we found - home

Where have all those feelings gone...
... That led us to those days when we were happy, together?
Please don't try to find an answer just look forward and move on,
move on

We seek to fall, we seek to fall
We seek to fall, we seek to fall

Wake up, break out, this is the only way we found
Wake up, break out, this is the only way we found - home
Wake up, break out, this is the only way we know...

... Broken dreams drying tears fading memories
Lost in thoughts about this game called life
