

Forever... At All

His Statue Falls

no more friday nights they have a bitter taste since that one night when you decided to come for a while you tried your best to please me you tried to do things straight but as we both know it was nothing but a silent call for help

it drives you to despair cause you're never satisfied this is not supposed to happen everything you've got seems to be not enough so tell me who you want to be everything you need seems so unreachable, so far everything you've got seems to be not enough

everything you need seems so unreachable, so far i heard it clearly i swear and as you know my dear i'd have been there for you cause i can't stand your tears but you were too drunk to speak a proper word too drunk to stand just straight too drunk to notice that you broke my heart again let's quit this fuckin' shit, forever cause you're not made to live this, at all

cause you're not strong enough, at all

everything you need seems so unreachable, so far
everything you've got seems to be not enough
everything you need seems so unreachable, so far
everything you've got seems to be not enough
everything you need seems so unreachable, so far
