

You've come a long way since
You've tasted what its like to be alone
They haven't seen your grace
Memories of good times
Make you hold your head up high
You carry the weight of the world

I try to escape
The burden of today
I'm longing for tomorrow
But tomorrow's far away
I try to forget
The pain of yesterday
It's slowly gettin' better
But release is miles away

And so it's up to me to maintain
What we had and what we shared
Unbroken and still standing
When I look at you
The truth appears so I can see
Pretending is what you prefer

I try to escape
The burden of today
I'm longing for tomorrow
But tomorrow's far away
I try to forget
The pain of yesterday
It's slowly gettin' better
But release is miles away

You carry the weight of the world
Unbroken and still standing
You've come a long way
Since you've tasted
What its like to be alone

I try to escape
The burden of today
I'm longing for tomorrow
But tomorrow's far away
I try to forget
The pain of yesterday
It's slowly gettin' better
But release is miles away

I try to escape
The burden of today
I'm longing for tomorrow
But tomorrow's far away
I try to forget
The pain of yesterday
