

Faster Now

Hit the Lights

When the world let me down
You were always around
If I needed a spark
I could find you

But the fire flickered out
And I could drown in this doubt
Even light feels so dark without you

I fear, now that I've arrived here
I won't know what to say
Cause the world moves faster now
And it's changing me
Wanna hold on to you
But my arms give way
And I know this is where I let you go
Cause the world moves faster now

Now that I have to choose
What I keep and what I lose
Who's gonna save me from myself
If it's not you

I fear, now that I belong here
There's nothing left to say
Cause the world moves faster now
And it's changing me
Wanna hold on to you
But my arms give way
And I know this is where I let you go
Cause the world moves faster now

My world always revolved around you
Like a new day I would rise to
Now I'm waking up without you
And I can't slow down we got lost somehow

Cause the world moves faster now
And it's changing me
Wanna hold on to you
But my arms give way
And I know this is where I let you go
Cause the world moves faster now
And it's changing me
Wanna hold on to you
But my arms give way
And I know this is where I let you go
Cause the world moves faster now
