

Where Words Fail Hate Speaks

Hocico

How long are you going to wait for the final speech?
It's only words, I'm tired of letting them speak

How long are you going to wait for redemption ghosts?
While the world tears apart under the power of a fake cross

Where words fail, hate speaks
You might think I'm sick, but I'm just me
Listen well
Where words fail, hate speaks
You might think I'm sick, but I'm just me
Listen well, I'm just me

There's no chance for words to save us from this madness
We're programmed for violence, so let the blood run to break the silence

I tried to tell you so many times but you wouldn't listen
Now let the hate speak and control our fate

Where words fail, hate speaks
You might think I'm sick, but I'm just me
Listen well
Where words fail, hate speaks
You might think I'm sick, but I'm just me
Listen well, I'm just me
