

Pacific Coast Highway

Hole

I knew a boy, he came from the sea
He was the only boy who ever knew the truth about me

I'm overwhelmed and undersexed
Oh baby what did you expect?
I'm overwrought and so disgraced
And too ashamed to show my face

And they're coming to take me away
What I want I will never have
I'm on the Pacific Coast Highway
With your gun in my hands

I knew a boy, he left me so ravaged
Do you even know the extense of the damage?
My dirty lips, oh secrets dies
In between the sheets and the promises that kept me from your eyes

I'm bloody and so darling bow
I don't know what to do with my hands now
I surrender, I give in
I'll kick down your door if you don't let me in
And I lost myself completely
I look to you my shooting star
I'm on the Pacific Coast Highway
My God how did you fall so far?

Your whole world is in my hands
Your whole wide world is in my hands
Your whole world is in my hands
Your whole wide world is in my hands

I'm out there dying for you, baby
And I got your blood on my hands

Your whole world is in my hands
Your whole wide world is in my hands
Your whole world is in my hands
Your whole wide world is in my hands

And you know I'm drowning
And you know I'm drowning
And you know I'm drowning
And you know I'm drowning
And you know I'm drowning
