Yesterday's Gone

The Hollies

In a city where nobody speaks
Where people livin just to make ends meet
And lookin back over their shoulders
At the road they should be on
It gets me wishin I could catch a wave
I'm drinkin red wine in the sunshine
And sleeping away too long
Lotsa strange things can change, ain't that the way
You think you got it figured out
And blows you away

Yesterday's gone baby don't you know
You'll never get it back, gotta let it go
Yesterday's gone, it's a one night show
But you got tomorrow yea
Yesyerday's gone, look at how you've grown
Never give it up cos you're not alone
Yesterday's gone
Don't have a heart of stone yea yea yea

Ain't it a pity the way we live
Always thinkin that there's more than this Getting sick and tired of tryin to find
Someone else we can get along
Reminiscin about the long lost days
Like a movie that I might replay
When every day lasted a lifetime
And summer went on and on
Lots of strange things can change
Ain't that the way
You think you got it figured out
And knows your own away

Yesterday's gone baby don't you know
You'll never get it back, gotta let it go
Yesterday's gone, it's a one night show
But you got tomorrow yea
Yesyerday's gone, look at how you've grown
Never give it up cos you're not alone
Yesterday's gone
Don't have a heart of stone

Yesterday's gone baby don't you know
You'll never get it back, gotta let it go
Yesterday's gone, it's a one night show
But you got tomorrow yea
Yesyerday's gone, look at how you've grown
Never give it up cos you're not alone
Yesterday's gone
Don't have a heart of stone
