Feeling like i can't forgive but i want to It's like i don't know how to live i'm afraid to
I used to think take them as they come without hesitations no
Now it's like my head is filled with lies and persuasions

As the sun begins to fall i hear her calling out to me she's sa yin' hurry it's one more day gone

What i wouldn't give just to forget So i can remember how to live again I wanna live again

I am feeling dissonant and distracted The toxic chemicals are spilling in my head and they're bleeding deadly reactions

And as the moon begins to rise he shows me all the colors that i'm hiding i'm hiding myself

What i wouldn't give just to forget What i wouldn't give to get some rest So i can remember how to live again I wanna live again

Am i desperately losing this fight When i should really be choosing my flight Take me now

What i wouldn't give just to forget What i wouldn't give to get some rest So i can remember how to live again I wanna live again

What i wouldn't give just to forget What i wouldn't give to get some rest What i wouldn't give just to forget So i can remember how to live