

Knife Called Lust

Hollywood Undead

Lets go right now!

I look alive, I'm dead inside. My heart has holes and black blood flows.
We'll do some drugs, well fall in love and get fucked up while the world just shrugs.

With no thought Logically.

Were wondering the streets so aimlessly.

I hate to see these kids just being put down so painlessly.

And people say you Dye your hair and wear tight jeans, that doesn't mean.

That you can't scream, or like loud noise, you got a choice, you have a voice.

And just because you showed no love and hate on us
you fucked our trust.

Now watch we thrust this

Knife Called Lust into my Chest until it Bust.

This love, This Hate

Is burning me away

(is burning me away)

It's hard to face that we're all the same

This love, This Hate

Is Burning me away

(is burning me away)

It's harder times like these that never change

(That never change)

mad at the fact your dad is an addict, your friend takes pills he thinks it cures sadness,

I'm not here to attack or make you kids panic,

but i just think it's tragic the way these kids have it.

and everybody sins and it all begins, it goes back around, nobody ever wins.

and you stab yourself in the back, EVERYBODY JUST RELAX! it all just hits so close to home, we all got friends but we stand alone, and your on your own from a broken home, you keep the truth inside and it stays unknown. Nostalgia hit and its time to quit, and everybody acts like it don't mean shit. a and your friend will stab you just to fuck some girl, put your hands in the air and scream FUCK THE WORLD!!!

This love, This Hate

Is burning me away

(is burning me away)

It's hard to face that we're all the same

This love, This Hate

Is Burning me away

(is burning me away)

It's harder times like these that never change

(That never change)

Let go

I'll bring you closer

Right now

I'll hold on tightly

Let go

We're going no where

Somewhere
And things aren't over
Harder times like these!
Growing up on the streets!
Harder times like these!
We'll put you back on your feet!

This love, This Hate
Is burning me away
(is burning me away)
It's hard to face that we're all the same
This love, This Hate
Is Burning me away
(is burning me away)
It's harder times like these that never change
(That never change)

And I fall to the ground with my teardrops
And I get lost every time my heart stops
This love this hate is burning me away
And I fall to the ground with my teardrops
And I get lost every time my heart stops
This love this hate is burning me away!
