

Disorder Of The Order

Holy Moses

Crushing into the cranium
Of a brain gone far beyond
Our images of chaos
Long before we walked on down

Defile the senses
While feelings travel through the space
Recoil the reflexes
To the subjugated of a race

You will gather there tonight
You can hear the bullets of my cry
We will turn our amps to ten
The battle will start all over again

Disorder of the order
Into present now
Disorder of the order
A madness will last

Gates of hell are open now
We won't be your fuckin' clown
Reign of terror will begin
We promise it's not the world's end

As the order of life
Slowly fades away
The ship docks at the bay
Slowly fades away

Disorder of the order
Slowly fades away
Will arise from the past
Slowly fades away

Disorder of the order
Into present now
Disorder of the order
A madness will last

Diluting the insanity of the world's scare
Diffusing the reaction
Deviating from obscure normality
The master pleads temporary insanity

Disorder of the order
Into present now
Disorder of the order
A madness will last

Disorder of the order
Into present now
Disorder of the order
A madness will last
