

Let Go

Home Grown

Why be concerned
With things that you don't have control over?
What good is it to worry when
You never know what's really going to happen?

Tomorrow's just another day away, you'll find your way
You'll be okay You just have to learn to let go

When things get you down
Should you look back? No!
Turn your head around
And take things one day at a time
But plan ahead for mountains you have yet to climb
