See you in the dark

Honor Society

You were always the girl Who would give me girl advice whenever I needed it My best friend in the world My friends said you were fine but I was always denyin it

Then one summer day I saw you laying by your swimming pool And I was thinking damn you really changed Youre not the quite girl I used to know You opened up my eyes

I see you walk across my room in Nothing but the moonlight Now I love to see you in the dark (see you in the dark)

My window, frames you like a Monet So dont come back to bed yet Cause I love to see you in the dark (see you in the dark)

Ill never see you the same The veil has been lifted, now I see youre gifted My whole perspective has changed Dont think I cant go back cause I will always desire it

Dont take another step Near me just in case we have regrets If tomorrow we go back to being friends Ill think about the way you looked tonight So turn off all the lights

I see you walk across my room in Nothing but the moonlight Now I love to see you in the dark (see you in the dark)

My window, frames you like a Monet So dont come back to bed yet Cause I love to see you in the dark (see you in the dark)

Maybe if you were someone else It wouldnt have to be like this Im wondering how you feel about me now Or was this just a friendly kiss Cause Im seeing you for the first time

She pulls me closer to her body As she whispers softly Turn the lights off See you in the dark(see you in the dark) I see you walk across my room in Nothing but the moonlight Now I love to see you in the dark (see you in the dark)

My window, frames you like a Monet So dont come back to bed yet Cause I love to see you in the dark (see you in the dark)
